

IN MEMORIAM

At 1:15 a.m., Monday, April 18, 1955, a "Princeton era" came to a dramatic end with the death of Albert Einstein, one of George Bernard Shaw's "eight makers of the universe," President Eisenhower's designee as the man "contributing most to 20th century knowledge" and a neighbor held in the greatest veneration by his fellow Princetonians—as much for his humanity, the purity of his life and his humility—as for his unremitting efforts to broaden man's understanding of the universe.

It was a stunned community that last Monday heard early-morning newscasters announce the sudden death of the "Father of the Atomic Age," the distinguished resident of 112 Mercer Street, who has been sought over the years not only by scientists but by men in all walks of life with all sorts of nagging problems. To the yellow clapboard house with green shutters came India's Nehru, Israel's Ben-Gurion, the lovable Schweitzer, Tagore, clergymen of all faiths, physicians and educators, political and labor leaders, journalists with missions, fund-raisers with hopes; and to them all he was a symbol of all Princeton stands for in the taut world in which we live.

Some 23 years have flown by since the founders of the Institute for Advanced Study quietly announced, "Professor Albert Einstein will join the group of mathematicians now gathered at Princeton." And it was just a year later—October 18, 1933—that red-faced Institute and University authorities apologized to the press for the fact that "Professor Einstein declined to pose for photographs at the pre-arranged session here this morning." So it has been during the intervening decades. While Einstein was involved in little pre-arranged publicity, he was in his own humble words the "recipient of excessive admiration and respect from my fellows through no fault of my own," a phenomenon that made "Do you ever see Einstein?" and "What does Einstein do?" the most-asked questions among visitors to Princeton.

"The good doctor," in his 77th year at the time of his death and known to young and old alike wherever his blue stocking-cap might appear, "never believed in an axiom" in his work. Nonetheless, he will be remembered by many of those who loved him best for his epigrammatic reactions to human situations. For instance, when admonished by a hospitalized friend, who described Einstein's visit as "an imposition" on Einstein's time, he replied: "The word imposition is never used where there is love." And on the occasion of his naturalization as an American citizen, in the Federal Court Building in Trenton in 1940, he emphasized: "I do feel that in America the most valuable thing in life is possible, the development of the individual and his creative power. There may be men who can live without political rights and without opportunity of free individual development, but I think this is intolerable for Americans."

Seldom if ever has one spoken more clearly of the things Princeton believes in and never has Princeton had more reason to be as proud as it is of the memories of one of its own.

Topics of the Town

To All Corners of the World. No event that has ever occurred in Princeton has been of more widespread significance than completion of the lifespan of the man who rewrote mankind's understanding of the universe. As news of the death of Dr. Albert Einstein spread throughout the world Monday morning, agreement was widespread in free nations and behind the Iron Curtain as well that one of the great scientists of all time had finished his work on earth.

When the first announcement of his death was made public for radio, television and newspaper use shortly after 8 o'clock Monday morning, representatives of all three media converged on the community. Princeton correspondents of metropolitan papers and national wire services telephoned all details as quickly as they became available, but it took a full-fledged press conference at Princeton Hospital to provide the myriad facts and background material that rapidly found their way to New York and Keokuk, Moscow and Berlin, China and the Argentine.

For the better part of an hour, more than a score of reporters and staff writers partook in a detailed question-and-answer period on the famed mathematician's last days. It was in no sense a morbid interest that prompted them, nor was there a lack of justification for their searching inquiries. Dr. Einstein's theory of relativity and his ability to unlock for the 20th century the secret of utilizing atomic power had long ago transposed him (no matter how much against his will) from a quiet, retiring individual to a world figure. The world wanted to hear his final chapter.

Among those participating in the press conference were Miss Helene Dukas, Dr. Einstein's long-time secretary-housekeeper; Dr. Herman Weyl, emeritus professor at the Institute for Advanced Study and a close friend; Otto Nathan, executor of his estate; Mrs. William Russell, executive secretary to Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer; Dr. Guy K. Dean and Dr. Thomas Harvey of the hospital staff. The conference was directed by Dan D. Coyle, who serves as the hospital's director of public relations.

At its conclusion, eight of the ten outgoing telephone lines in the building were assigned to the representatives of the press. In line with hospital policy, photographers were barred inside the building but every central figure in the story was the object of a battery of cameras in the spring sunshine outside the building.

Throughout the day and until well past midnight on Monday, the Princeton community, the Einstein house at 112 Mercer and the Institute for Advanced Study were the scene of further searching for story detail and for pictures. From 11:30 until 12 p.m., the Columbia Broadcasting System telecast a special program designed to evaluate the tremendous contribution he had made to science and to shaping the course of future world events. A major portion of the program originated from the Institute's Fuld Hall here in Princeton.

State, national and international figures the world over paid tribute to his accomplishments. Here in Princeton, President Dodds' statement spoke eloquently for town and gown alike:

"The contributions which Dr. Einstein made to man's understanding of nature are beyond assessment in our day. Only future generations will be competent to grasp their full significance."

"He combined broad human sympathy and a deep appreciation of the arts with his scientific genius. As a member of the Institute for Advanced Study from its earliest days when it was housed on the University campus, Dr. Einstein has been a valued member of this community. We are deeply saddened at his passing."

Primary Results. Three developments in Tuesday's primary balloting made news: voter turnouts of approximately 14% were the lowest in the post-war era; more Democrats than Republicans (436 to 425) voted in the Borough for the first time within memory; and the Democratic or—Continued on Page 2

The Democrats can also qualify in the Township and will oppose James G. Campbell, Jr. in the fall. In the borough, Miss Marie the party nominee for assessor) got two votes for collector and can oppose incumbent Wilbur F.

Kerr if she chooses to do so.

Vaccine Shots to Start. Princeton's first and second grade students will start receiving Salk polio vaccine shots next week.
Last of the "consent forms" are being received now, with parents nearly unanimous in requesting the vaccine for their children.

First and second grade pupils of the township school system and Mrs. Chapin's School are scheduled to receive shots next Tuesday from Dr. Alfred D. Summers and Dr. Leonard Berry. Dr.
J. B. Burdidge will administer the vaccine to eligible pupils in the Borough system and Mrs. Mason's School the following day.

Princeton Hospital will contribute syringes for the vaccinations in Borough Township and West Windsor schools as a public service. The hospital will also prepare the needles and arrange for sterilization.

The second series of shots will be given in four weeks and the third ("booster") shot in seven months. In a move designed to make greater amounts of the vaccine available immediately, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis this week announced that it will provide free vaccine for the first two shots only, returning the remaining third of its purchase to pharmaceutical firms. Thus the final shot will be paid for either by parents or through official action.

Godolphin to Retire as Dean.
The resignation of Dr. Francis R.
B. Godolphin as Dean of the College at Princeton University was announced this week by President Dodds. Currently on leave of absence while recuperating from a recent illness, Dean Godolphin will retire from the position in June upon completion of his second five-year term in the position.

He will be succeeded by Jeremiah S. Finch, Associate Dean of the College and a member of the Department of English since 1936. Currently Acting Dean, he and Mrs. Finch and their two daughters will take up residence in Joseph Henry House, the official residence of the Dean of the College, this summer.

Dean Godolphin will go to Europe later this spring to visit German universities at the invitation of the West German Republic. During the academic year 1955-56, he will study and write at the American Academy in Rome, prior to returning to full-time teaching and research in the Department of Classics at the University, of which he is a former chairman.

In announcing the change,
President Dodds termed Dean
Godolphin's service "of incalcul-"

It's New to Us

From El Alamein. Soldiers in the British Army are said to have worn a sand-colored, ankle-high boot to keep North Africa from sifting into their shoes. This boot—or, at least, something that could well have been such a boot—has now been redesigned for the civilian lounge by Clark's of England.

It looks like fine sandpaper. The uppers come well over the ankle and the sole of the shoe looks like a snow boot, except for the color and weight. The leather is unlined and the shoe is pliable and easy to wear.

You may wash a desert boot with soap and water, then brush up its nap. Soles are light crepe and there is a lacing that ties two eyelets together. The price is $11.95, and there is a ladies' model that sells at $12.95, for some boot-less reason.

You may buy ladies' or men's desert boots at Brophy's, 78 Nassau. There is a low model for men, also.

The classic buck, never happy in its white purity, has gone sandy and now looks like a desert boot. The sandy shoe, the color of the Jersey shore, has a black sole to give it some flash.

This year's new golf shoe has a heavy twill top that's tan or navy, and a crepe sole with embedded metal spikes. Good as a second pair to save your heavy golf shoes.

Mr. Brophy would also like to recommend a burlap casual with thick bound sole made of rubber "ropes." Lots of comfortable airholes in the burlap for a hot day.

New English. The pressure of a full social calendar has kept us until now from paying a call on the English Shop's new quarters at 5 Palmer Square West. The new walls are a deep green, lighted by birch cabinets, racks and tables. There is a leather chair, and plenty of room for all the beer steins. This new store almost triples the space of the old.

Here, in a world where the shift of one button is a radical fashion change, we found the same impeccable clothes the English Shop has always had. For this season and the summer to come, there is the Hathaway Aer-Tex shirt, the one that you can get a tan through, it says on the tag. Aer-Tex comes in quarter-inch checks or plain colors and is certainly one of the coolest sports shirts a man can own.

As one who has watched the sufferings of mankind in Jersey summers, we were pleased to find in this shop the new Hathaway batiste Oxford, a fine, tailored shirt for occasions when a sport shirt would not be appropriate. We mentioned this to our men's wear consultant and he expressed some concern about the thinness of batiste. Thinness, we explained patiently, is the whole idea.

Batiste was used for women's warm weather lingerie before the days of synthetic fabrics and is one of the coolest materials there is. But it does not make a sheer shirt by any means.

Hathaway also offers a button down English gingham in small blue, grey or maroon (with white) checks. White Stag has a shirt and shorts in white with two small interlocking pentagons scattered over the white in red and navy or charcoal and pink.

The English Shop has cotton cord jackets stretching themselves in all directions. And soon there will be a suit in a dacron-cotton mixture that you can toss in the wash-tub.

Moygashel linen jackets, of course, and walking shorts by the measured mile. India madras cotton cord, gingham tartans by Anderson (miniature tartans, they are), khaki and a light-weight Oxford grey wool.

Other Floors, other Rooms. In the interests of complete coverage, so to speak, Mercer Floor Sanding (Shopping Center) has opened a wide arch in its back wall, taken on more floor space with an entrance on the Mall, and opened "The Carpet Shop" under the guidance of Morris Schwartz.

To launch its new enterprise, Mercer is going to have a contest. Visit the store on its opening day.

next Thursday, April 28, and any day through May 7 to pick up an entry blank. To enter, you write 25 words on the theme "Home Means More with Carpets on the Floor". Turn in your entry by May 15 and sit back to wait for any of five prizes.

You may win (1) a 9 x 12 colonial hooked rug; (2) Needtuff carpeting furnished and installed on your stairs; (3) heavy waffle padding and tackless installation on wall-to-wall carpeting; (4) free installation of Armstrong tile in your kitchen (about a 12 x 12 foot area); (5) one-half the cost of an Armstrong installation in your kitchen.

Mercer has added two more experts to its expert staff. They are Walter Kulak, ceramic and plastic tile specialist, and Donald Moore, experienced salesman. Mr. Moore or one of his staff will bring into your home a kit of swatches and samples, if you'd like to match colors and textures. Call Mercer at 5231.

This Article Should Be Read By Everyone Purchasing a Car

An evil known as "pinks" has found its way into the car business and is used to confuse you, the customer.

So, when considering price, don't be misled by the over-allowance for your car. Instead, consider the difference that you will have to pay with a clear understanding that the price includes the accessories you desire.

Before you buy a new car, drive the cars that appeal to you most. Compare all features and decide which car impresses you most.

Then when placing your order with your chosen dealer, be sure the order includes the following break-down.

1. Factory F. O. B. Price
2. Federal Tax
3. Freight (Average $75 - $85)
4. H & D (If this figure is normal your dealer will gladly justify)
5. List and Price individually of accessories

"There is hardly anything in the world that some man cannot make a little worse and sell a little cheaper and the people who consider price only are this man's lawful prey"—Ruskin. These people frequently fall prey to misrepresentative selling.

The best Automobile Dealer makes the car perform as the manufacturer intended it to and is the owner wants it to. We strive to be the "Best." Be from Missouri and make us prove it.

able value to Princeton. He has handled with great wisdom and understanding the many problems of post-war adjustment. Dr. Dodds said "and we are grateful that he will continue to be a key part of Princeton for many years to come."

Township School Debated. More than 100 Township residents attended the public hearing last week to discuss the proposed new Township school to be built near Little Brook and Roper Roads in the northeast sector.

Dr. James A. Perkins outlined the board of education plan to build a school of 20 classrooms and two kindergarten rooms, plus other facilities needed for a primary school. Under the board's tentative proposal, all grades of grades one through four, plus kindergarten sections not accommodated at Stony Brook School, would be located in the new school, and all sections of grades five through eight would be retained at the Valley Road School, where facilities for upper grades already exist.

Critical comment was voiced over transportation problems caused by moving the primary grades to the northwest area and over the desirability of neighborhood schools rather than schools divided by grades. Members of the board pointed out that with the expected continuing growth of the Township, additional facilities will have to be built eventually, making "neighborhood schools" the ultimate end of the building program.

The proposed new school was termed the best means of meeting the immediate jump in enrollment, economical in that expensive special facilities for the upper grades would not have to be duplicated, and the best means of continuing satisfactory integration in the school system.

Census Taking Continues.

Request Rejected

The plea of many Princetonians that a traffic signal be installed at the busy intersection of Washington and College Roads has been denied by the State Department of Law and Safety. It was rejected by Herbert J. Klar, chief of the department's traffic engineering section, on the grounds that a study of conditions there, including the flow of vehicles, indicate no light is necessary.

The County Board of Freeholders had asked for a traffic light following a request from Princeton Country Day School on behalf of its trustees and many parents. Other individuals and Princeton University are likewise concerned over the hazard that the busy intersection creates.

As a substitute for a traffic light, the state has suggested reflectorized "Stop" signs on College Road lining both streets with reflectorized paint; adding a traffic lane to the south side of College Road and an acceleration lane on the west side of Washington Road, as well as the construction of sidewalks along one side of each of the streets in question.

Meanwhile, the Township PTA is planning for another house-to-house census in early May, designed to keep the board of education and Township residents posted on school population trends. Mrs. Mortimer Feldman, chairman for the '55 PTA census, is now enlisting volunteer census-takers.

The survey of the pre-school and elementary school-age children is a follow-up of last year's, which provided figures to guide plans for additional classroom facilities. Continuing growth the area has made up-to-date figures necessary in preparing for larger school enrollments.

New Manager at Bam's. Jean-Pierre Meyer, formerly assistant manager of Macy's Flatbush, has taken up his duties as the new manager of Banberger's Princeton. He replaces Charles Ferguson, who has resigned.

Mr. Meyer joined Macy's in October 1947 as a sales clerk. He joined the executive training squad in 1948 and two and a half years later became department manager of budget sportswear. He went to Macy's Flatbush as assistant store manager last year. Mr. Meyer is a graduate of the Commercial College in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Road-e-o Planned. Approximately 20 drivers will take part Sunday at 1 o'clock in the annual Teen-Age Road-e-o sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Open to the public, it will be held at the east parking area in the Princeton Shopping Center.

The 20 entrants have been selected on a basis of written examinations given to some 200 Princeton High School students—Continued on Page 5

FACTS PROVE IT!

GET THE FACTS ON "ALL 3" LOW-PRICE CARS AND YOU'LL HAVE PROOF PLYMOUTH IS FIRST:

First in Size—By actual measurement, the 1955 Plymouth is the longest car of the low-price 3. (It's even bigger than some medium-price cars.) Plymouth is truly a big car . . . 17 feet long!

First in Roominess—Plymouth is also the biggest car inside, with the greatest hip room and leg room. More comfort for you! And Plymouth's trunk, by far the largest in its field, lets you pack everything.

First in Visibility—Comparison proves that Plymouth's glamorous new Full-View windshield—with cornerposts swept back both top and bottom—gives you the greatest visibility of "all 3."

First in Beauty—Compare styling and see why Charm, a leading fashion magazine, chose Plymouth "Beauty Buy of the Year." Plymouth's long, sleek Forward Look wins over the hand-me-down styling of the "other 2"!

First in Economy—Smoothest and thriftiest engine of all! That's the fast-stepping new 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117. Its Chrome-Sealed Action means extra thousands of trouble-free miles.

First in Riding Comfort—Plymouth gives you the most comfortable ride you ever experienced in a low-price car. Only the biggest car in the lowest-price field can give you a true big-car ride.

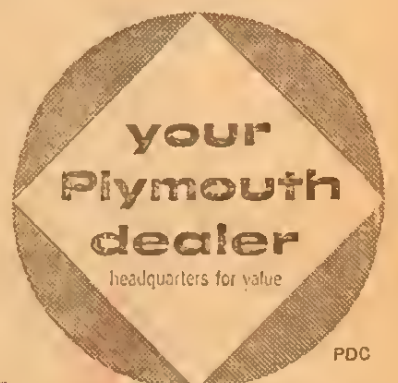

First in Extra Value—Plymouth gives you many extra-value features that the "other 2" low-price cars don't have. Come in and let us show you why Plymouth is first for value!

Why pay up to $500 more for a car smaller than Plymouth?

Don't be fooled by the claims of so-called medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much, much less than medium-price cars, and gives you more car for your money!

Obituaries

William A. Corcoran, 45, of 43 Chestnut Street, a foreman at the Princeton post office and an employee there for the past 23 years, died April 18 in Princeton Hospital following a heart attack. He was born in Hopewell, the son of the late William and Mary Norton Corcoran.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anne Lynch Corcoran; two sons, Thomas A. and William; a daughter, Miss Sue Ann Corcoran; a sister, Mrs. Thomas Mylotte, all of Princeton, and a brother, John, of Hopewell. Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Paul's Church, followed by interment in the parish cemetery.

Dr. Albert Einstein, 76, of 112 Mercer Street, died April 18 in Princeton Hospital, where he had been a patient for three days. Counted in his lifetime among the few greatest scientists of recorded history, Dr. Einstein was this community's most famous resident during his more than 21 years of residence here.

Born at Ulm, Wuertemberg, Germany, he was first a German, then a Swiss and finally (in 1940) an American citizen. During the first decade of this century he received his Ph.D from the University of Zurich and while he was still less than 30 years of age, published epoch-making papers that included his formulation of the Theory of Relativity.

In the succeeding two decades, he wrote articles containing spectacular advances in physical and mathematical theory that brought him world-wide honor, including a Nobel Prize in 1921. His concepts paved the way for research into the nature of the universe as well as into nuclear energy, and his famous $E=mc^2$ equation received the most spectacular proof in the history of scientific inquiry—the explosion of the first atom bomb.

Enthusiasm for the concept of the Institute for Advanced Study, coupled with Hitler's rise to power, brought Dr. Einstein here as a permanent resident in 1933. A life-long dissenter against warfare, social inequality, and institutions which restrict mankind, the great scientist was more than once immersed in sharp controversy outside his own sphere of physics.

A warm, humorous man to his associates, Dr. Einstein was articulate on many subjects, yet by nature he was withdrawn. He was known to many Princetonians as an occasional pedestrian, an even more occasional performer on his beloved violin, and a lively combatant with the forces of searching publicity.

Dr. Einstein had lived in the two-and-a-half story frame yellow Mercer Street house with his daughter, Margot, and Miss Helen Dukas, his secretary-housekeeper of many years. He is survived also by three sons from his two marriages.

The body was cremated without ceremony Monday afternoon in Ewing Cemetery. About 15 close friends and associates were present. Dr. Einstein's brain and other vital organs were removed for scientific study, in accord with his wishes.

Good News (for a Change)

On one count, at least, when subject of taxes is mentioned, New Jersey residents have reason to be glad. Taxes on personal property throughout the state are the lowest of any in the nation.

The figure announced this week by the U. S. Commerce Department is $39.85. In contrast, nearby Delaware tops all states with $117.28 — three times that of New Jersey.

Kingston to Build. Members of the Kingston Presbyterian Church have voted to begin the construction of a $50,000 addition to their church, designed to hold the church's rapidly growing Sunday School.

Immediate consideration of a new building was made possible through a gift of $25,000 by George A. Hough, elder of the church and for 30 years the superintendent of the Sunday School. The remaining amount will be raised by contributions from members and friends of the church.

Tradition dates Kingston's Presbyterian church as far back as 1732, when the "meeting house" was a log building. Early maps show that in 1766 there was a frame building on the hill in the Kingston cemetery. The foundation of this church may still be found in the cemetery about 75 feet north of the New Brunswick and Princeton turnpike, some 200 feet west of the Rocky Hill road. The present church building was erected in 1952.

Christian Scientist to Speak. The healing method of Christian Science will be the subject of a public lecture to be given in the Princeton High School auditorium next Friday, April 29 at 8:30 p.m. Mrs. Mary C. Holloway of Shreveport, Louisiana, will speak. There is no charge for the lecture and the public is invited.

Mrs. Holloway has been a Christian Science practitioner for many years and is now a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship. She has been active in community welfare and public relations work.

First Church Meetings. "The Nature of Man" is the subject of a panel discussion to be held by the Westminster Foundation of the First Presbyterian Church this Sunday at 7:15 p.m. Professors James Smith, Arthur Szathmari, and E. H. Harbison of Princeton University; Professor Hans Hoffman of the Seminary and the Rev. Ernest Gordon, will speak.

Monday at 8 p.m., the Women's Association of the First Church will hold an All-Circle meeting with Circles One and Eight as hostesses. Drawing for new circles will be part of the program.

TV Series Wind-Up. The six remaining television programs on "The Greatest Book in the World" will feature as speakers two new members of the Princeton Seminary faculty, the Rev. D. Campbell Wyckoff and the Rev. James W. Clarke. The Rev. Dr. Wyckoff will speak on "The Bible and Wisdom—a Study in Proverbs" this Friday at 11:15 a.m. Next Saturday, April 30, the Rev. Dr. Clarke will discuss Luke.

Succeeding programs in the series, which will end on Friday, May 27, will be given by the Rev. James K. Quay who will speak on Acts, and Dr. John A. Mackay, president of the Seminary, who will discuss "The Bible and Man's Predicament—a study in Romans."

Dr. George S. Hendry, head of the Seminary theology department who comes from Scotland, and Dr. Otto A. Piper, New Testament authority who is a native of Germany, will bring the series to a close with discussions of the Bible and liberty and the Bible and human destiny. These programs are carried on Channel 6 and are sponsored by the Philadelphia "Inquirer."

REGULAR SERVICES

Witherspoon Presbyterian. "The Source of Life" is the sermon topic of the Rev. Benjamin J. Anderson for this Sunday at 11 a.m. The mid-week service will be held Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

In the course of his survey, he visited Silliman University in the Philippines; Chung Chi College in Hong Kong whose student body has many refugees from Communist China; Christian University, Jakarta, Indonesia; and Severance Medical College at Seoul.

Dr. Fenn also helped in the establishment of Tunghai University, Formosa. The son of missionary parents, Dr. Fenn is a former resident of Princeton.

To Whom It May Concern

We of Skillman's Furniture Store wish to express our sincere appreciation to all of the firemen and others who responded so quickly and efficiently during the recent fire in the Branch Building, at 33 Witherspoon Street, where we have our store. The alertness of all concerned, kept damage to a minimum, and averted a major holocaust.

Only in times like these are we consciously aware of what friends and neighbors can, and will do, to aid in time of emergency. Princeton can truly be proud of its fire chief, volunteer firemen and of its police system.

SCHEDULED FOR JULY COMPLETION: Two key projects in Lawrenceville's development, the expansion of the elementary school and the firehouse of the Lawrenceville Fire Company, are scheduled to be finished in July. Work on the school is currently ahead of schedule. The additional five classrooms and kindergarten facility, school building. With one class now being held in the Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church and three in the Junior High School, the added facilities will be just in time for next fall's needs. The firehouse on Phillips Avenue will become the firehouse on Gordon Avenue when work is completed. To gain access to a street with more maneuvering room and without a steady flow of school children, the engine rooms are being turned as part of the $56,000 building and renovating project. A single story space for equipment will be added on the end shown, and the hall and kitchen upstairs in the 37-year-old building will be enlarged (Alan Richards Photos)

PLANS UNOER DISCUSSION: Final details of "The Trial of Lucullus" are discussed by the composer, Roger Sessions, at the piano; members of the cast, Fadlou Shehadi, Herbert Pate and Paul Oncley; and stage director Kurt Graff (right). It will be presented for the first time next Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, at McCarter Theatre.

Music in Princeton

PRINCETON SYMPHONY

Scores of singers, musicians, performers, coaches, and business and technical personnel from Princeton and surrounding communities are preparing for the production of "The Trial of Lucullus" next Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, in McCarter Theatre.

Along with the first eastern presentation of the one-act opera by Roger Sessions, the combined groups will perform Monteverdi's "Il Combattimento di Tancredi e Clorinda," telling of the mortal struggle between the knight Tancredi and Clorinda, a warrior-maid.

The large-scale production, expected to draw critics and listeners from New York and Philadelphia, is sponsored by the Princeton Symphony Orchestra Association, with Mrs. Roy Dickinson Welch, executive vice-president, serving as general chairman for the event. Tickets are now on sale at the University Store (tel. 2333).

Performers from Princeton and nearby areas will take all but two of the solo roles and all of the choral parts for "Lucullus". The visiting artists will be Martha Long, soprano, of New York, who will appear both as Clorinda and as the Queen in the Sessions work, and Edgar Jones, bass-baritone, of Berkeley, Cal., who will take the part of the Judge of The Dead, which he sang in the original 1947 production of "Lucullus".

Robert Simpson, tenor and voice teacher at Westminster Choir College, will sing the title role. He has performed at Tanglewood and with the West Virginia

Into the Pit

Among the myriad preparations for the forthcoming production of the opera "Trial of Lucullus" next Friday and Saturday in McCarter Theatre has been the removing of the railing of the orchestra pit and the first two rows of seats.

The expansion of the pit is designed to accommodate the full Princeton Symphony Orchestra, which will be making its first appearance in that location. Subscribers with seats in the first two rows have been moved to other places in the theatre.

Opera Workshop under Goldowski.

Fadlou Shehadi, baritone, has a solo part in "Lucullus" and will also take the part of Tancredi in the Monteverdi work. Mr. Shehadi teaches philosophy at Douglass College in New Brunswick and in 1951 sang the role of Alfio in the Princeton Opera Workshop production of "Cavalleria Rusticana".

The role of Tertullia, an old woman, will be sung by Rachel Armstrong, contralto, of Cranbury and she will also sing the part of the narrator in "Il Combattimento". Other major roles will be taken by Paul Oncley, Phyllis Evans, Janice Harsanyi and Herbert Pate, both of the voice department at the Choir College, and James Dellert, Lois Laverty, George Trautwein and Marvin Burke, students at Westminster.

Others in the choral group will be Barbara Hilbish, Harry Mernagh, Ludmilla Turkevich, all of Princeton, Eleanor Holly, of Skillman; Jane Miller, Borden-town; Paul Smith, Rocky Hill, and Carolyn Cranston, Sherry

News of the Theatres

THEATRE INTIME

Princeton University's Theatre Intime is presenting a bill of original one-act plays this weekend at 8:30 nightly in Murray Theatre on the University Campus. The annual event, open to the public without charge, precedes the main spring production, this year Congreve's "Love for Love," scheduled for May 4-15.

Patrick J. Smith's "At the Gates" is the winner of the $50 first prize in this year's contest. His fantasy of a marital mix-up at the gates of heaven will be directed by Peter B. Nicolls of Carter Road. John A. Schlegel and John N. Stearns will be seen in leading roles while Sandra Jefferson of 9 Aiken Avenue and Alma Heusel of Trenton will be featured.

The playbill will also include "Shark Reflections" by Clement Cohen, directed by Brad Susman. Diana Godolphin, who has appeared in Colorado College and Colorado Springs Civic Theatre productions, will be featured, along with Mr. Nicolls, Allen Martin, Jake Page and Michael H. Finney.

"La Jocunde" by Charles A. Fried, which tied with "Shark Reflections" for second place in the competition, is the third offering. Directed by Jon Masters, the one-actor will feature Fred Wardenburg and Maurice Clou.

COMMUNITY PLAYERS

"Cuckoo on the Hearth" by Parker Fennelly has been chosen by the Community Players for their next production. The comedy-mystery will have a split run in Murray Theatre, playing the weekend of May 19-21 and again on May 25 through 28.

The author of "Cuckoo on the Hearth" is one of Broadway's best-known character actors. Set on the Maine coast, the play was first produced on Broadway in 1941 by Brock Pemberton, with Antonette Perry directing. The work includes the playwright's trick of having the second and third acts present two alternate and possible solutions of the situation presented in the first act.

Rehearsals are now in progress under the direction of Stuart Duncan, Community Players. Continued on Page 19

The program is under the musical direction of Nicholas Harsanyi. Mathilde McKinney, Princeton pianist, is the general coach, while Warren Martin, head of the Westminster graduate department, is coaching the college group, assisted by William Carlin, "Jacklin" Peyton, Eric Salzman, Eglman Mallabon and Robert Caplan, Princeton University graduate students in music. Mr. Peyton will also be the pianist for the performance.

Donald T. Bryant, instructor at the Columbus Boychoir School, is coaching the chorus of children from the school. Settings for the opera have been designed and built by Hugh Hardy, while Samuel Frothingham and Peter Van Zandt are responsible for the lighting. Many of the costumes designed by Mr. Graff have been executed by Mrs. Saxe Commis.

Members of the Princeton Community Players have given technical assistance, including Ruth Dorf, make-up; Helen Van Zandt, properties, and Marguerite McAneny, general details. Mrs. MacKenty Bryan of the University Concerts office has co-ordinated the rehearsal schedule.

FRESHMAN GLEE CLUB

The annual Freshman From Concert by the University's freshman glee club will be given this Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in Alexander Hall. Sponsored by the Friends of Music at Princeton, the concert will be open to the public without charge.

Horace T. Allen Jr. will direct the group in a program of works by Bach, Handel, Schubert and Gilbert and Sullivan, as well as motets, sea chanties and spirituals.

UNIVERSITY CHAPEL

Susi Jeans, Anglo-Austrian organist, will give an organ recital in the University Chapel this Sunday afternoon at 3:30. Lady Jeans is particularly noted for her work with the baroque chamber organ.

Widow of the scientist Sir James Jeans, Lady Jeans studied at the Academy of Music in Vienna under Franz Schutz and Franz Schmidt. She was a soloist at the Salzburg Festival in 1950 and has appeared as a soloist with the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra. Her many concert appearances have been made in Europe, Canada and this country.

Annual Concert. The concert given annually in memory of Elizabeth Milbank Anderson will be performed on Sunday, May 1, at 3:30 p.m. in the University Chapel. The concert is open to the public, without charge. Ticket holders receive first preference in seating.

Hindemith's "When Lilacs Last in the Door-Yard Bloomed" will be performed by the Bryn Mawr Chorus, the University Chapel Choir, and assisting soloists and orchestra. Dr. Carl Weinrich will conduct.

FILM CLASSIC SERIES

The annual spring Film Classic Series sponsored by Group Arts resumes this Friday evening with W. C. Fields' classic comedy, "The Bank Dick." Showings are at 7 and 9 in McCosh Hall 50 on the University Campus, and tickets may be obtained at the door.

"The Bank Dick" is from Fields' "inventive period," when he included scenes and gags which came to him during the day's filming. It concludes with an epicly comic "chase."

Remaining films in the series are "The 39 Steps," one of Alfred Hitchcock's best-known thrillers, and the South African film "Ponywhistle Blues." "The 39 Steps" will be shown May 6 and "Ponywhistle Blues" on May 20.

THE PLAYHOUSE

The Glass Slipper (April 21-23) is a fairly literal if pleasant rendering of the Cinderella story. Its charm, with Leslie Caron as chief charmer, should please children more than adults, and another dose of imagination would have been welcome. The tale is told in song, dance, ballet and color. Michael Wilding, Estelle Winwood and Ballet de Paris assist.

East of Eden (April 24-30) is the gripping drama made by Elia Kazan from the latter part of John Steinbeck's novel. The story of the struggle of two sons in 1917 California for the love of their father (with full Biblical overtones) is a superbly produced film, outstanding in all departments.

THE GARDEN

Deep in My Heart (April 21-23) is the fictionalized biography of the popular tunesmith Sigmund Romberg and typical Hollywood treatment allows plenty of room for more than a dozen Romberg songs and dances. There is comedy and considerable sentiment, too, and fine performances by Jose Ferrer and Helen Traubel (in her notable film debut). Many other well-known stars take part, but the film avoids the usually multi-star hodge-podge effects.

The Stranger's Hand (April 25-26) is another Graham Greene thriller set in Vienna and filled with skilful background and character touches. The story of a kidnapped British agent is lively but routine. Well-acted by Richard Basehart, Alida Valli and Trevor Howard.

Sabrina (April 27-28) is a most amusing filming of the gauzy Cinderella story, one that is filled with liberal amounts of laughter and delightful acting by Audrey Hepburn, Humphrey Bogart, William Holden and others.

Captain Lightfoot (April 29-30) is an elaborate swashbuckler, untroubled by much thought or plot logic. Rock Hudson, Barbara Rush, Jeff Morrow and Kathleen Ryan participate in a story of Irish revolt against British rule in 1815. Plenty of action fistfights, rural and Dublin scenery shot in CinemaScope and Technicolor.

Sports in Princeton

The Weekend Schedule. Princeton teams will be active this weekend on the home front in baseball, track, tennis and golf, as well as 150-lb. crew. The heavyweight crew will participate in the Chids Cup regatta on Pennsylvania's Schuylkill River, while the lacrosse team here, south again to play Johns Hopkins at Baltimore.

A pair of weekend games again confront the baseball team, which takes on New York University Friday at 4 and Seton Hall Saturday at 2. A dual track meet between Princeton and Columbia varsity and freshman teams is set for Palmer Stadium at the same hour Saturday.

Tennis fans will also find a pair of weekend matches on the Church Courts near Palmer Stadium. College will provide the Metropolitan Friday afternoon at 4, Georgetown will be here Saturday at 2. Both the tennis matches and the ball games are non-league affairs.

On the lake at 5:30, the 150-lb. crew will row Columbia. Preliminary events involving the freshman and junior varsity lightweights are set for 4:45 and 5:30.

Navy Still Supreme. Princeton's heavyweight crew will be after its first victory in two seasons Saturday when it meets Columbia and Penn at Philadelphia. The Tigers will have opposition primarily from the Quakers, who are defending the Chids Cup, but Columbia cannot be discounted.

Meanwhile, Navy's unmatched winning streak has another link, with the midshipmen still the crew to beat. Their skills was stretched to 30 on Lake Carrege Saturday with a two and a half length triumph over Princeton on the mile and three-quarter course.

A brisk quartering wind made the surface quite choppy, but the victory time of 5:00 for the distance was extremely good. They led throughout the race, coming up water at the end of the first half mile and drawing away steadily thereafter. Princeton clocked in 9:11.

Because the wind picked up noticeably in the final 15 minutes of the regatta, the varsity's time was slower than that of the J-cvves and the freshmen by two to three seconds. Each of these Princeton boats came close to catching their Annapolis rivals, the freshmen missing by seven feet and the junior varsity by less than four.

Ball Team in Trouble. Nine errors in two days are full indication of difficulty the baseball team is having in building defensive strength. Brown and Colgate both topped the Tigers by 4-4 scores last Friday and Saturday, with the Princetonians' exhibition on several occasions extremely disappointing.

Only two of Brown's eight runs were earned as the team was guilty of five errors behind starter Jim Gibson and Pete Van Gyteneck. Every one of the Tiger misplays contributed directly to one or more of the victory runs. In the last three innings, Van Gyteneck did not allow a hit but the Rhode Islanders still scored once in each round.

Three runs in the second inning and two more in the fifth were all Brown needed to wrap up the season's first Ivy League game. Princeton had pitcher Harry Josephson on the ropes frequently with 10 hits and five walks but could not produce the knockout blow.

Ten runners were stranded and

Something Different

Princeton is represented this spring in three sports which do not appear on the official athletic schedules prepared by the University Department of Intercollegiate Athletics.

Dinghy racing is a favorite pastime on Lake Carnegie, with the 30-member University Yacht Club partaking in intercollegiate regattas each weekend. Plans are being made for the Greater Philadelphia area championships, in which eight colleges will compete here on May 21 and 22.

The Princeton Rugby Club and the Princeton Cricket Club were both in action away from home last weekend. The Rugby team beat Yale at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. while the cricket players went to Staten Island, N. Y. where they defeated Harvard.

The bases were left full on two occasions. Eddie Donovan used 20 players, including four pinch hitters, a pinch runner, two pitchers, two catchers, two shortstops and three third basemen but without appreciable results.

There was nothing the Tigers could do with Colgate's new hitting off Dick Emery (12 safe blows in seven innings) but more spotty fielding and a return to weak batting made the task of catching the Red Raiders more difficult. In contrast to the tenth against Brown, Princeton could collect only six off Colgate's Larry Bossidy, leaving nine more potential runs on the bases.

Emery gave up all eight runs before sophomore Lee Ford came on to hurt the last two rounds. He was the victim of successive errors on the second and third batters to face him but still was able to keep the visitors from scoring.

John Easton's hitting he collected three for five against Brown, including his fourth homer of the year) is one of the few bright spots of the season to date. Gibson and Ford still give the impression that they can win with good support, but nine errors in two days is a long ways from stability.

The games this weekend follow the midweek trip to Annapolis to meet defending champion Navy. After Brown had topped the Tigers, Navy handled the Bruins with ease, 5-2. Rutgers, which thumped Princeton, 15-4, earlier this month, will be at University Field Wednesday for a return engagement.

drawing the spotlight as the track team nears the peak of its 1955 season. A fine sprinter who already holds one all-time Princeton record, he will be in action Saturday in Palmer Stadium against Columbia and will run against Yale here May 7 and in the ten-team Heptagonal Games on May 14.

Markisohn ran the hundred in 9.9 seconds last week as the Tigers trounced Rutgers, 103-13 to 36-2-3, and also took the 220 to become the meet's only double winner. His time of 20.9 was only two-tenths of a second over the record he set for the distance last year at Durham, N. C.

Markisohn has won all six races in which he has competed this season. He and Tempest Lowry, a good half-miler, and Captain Joe Myers (whose 48.7-44.0 against Rutgers was one of the season's best in the east) are the Tigers' primary hopes in the Heptagonals.

Other Sports. Harry Kinnell's golf team gives promise of being stronger this season even than the better than average outfits which have represented the Tigers in post-war years. A good balance of seniors and sophomores has given Princeton 7-0 and 6-1 victories over Fordham and Navy in the first two matches at Springdale.

Wayne Bancroft, playing number one, polished his Fordham opponent, 6 and 5, shooting a 33 on the outgoing nine. That's a mere three under par. He then took the Navy's number one man, 6 and 4.

Other members of the squad include veterans Fred Hovde (son of the President of Purdue University and a quarterback on the Princeton football team); Captain Willis Mills, Mike Konner and sophomores Charlie Hauser, Jeff MacRae, Bob Smith, and George Dunlap. The latter is the son of the former national amateur champion who was a member of the Princeton Class of 1932.

Coach John Conroy's tennis team lost only the third doubles match to Army Saturday as it opened its season at West Point. The Tigers' 8-1 triumph began their defense of the eastern title which they have held continuously since 1949, sharing the 1954 crown with Yale because the match with the Elis was rained out last year.

Coach Ferris Thomsen's lacrosse team gave good performances in trimming Rensselaer Polytech, 10-5, and Pennsylvania, 9-0, last week. The strong R.P.I. outfit was on the short end of a 7-0 count before it managed to score on goalie Bill Campbell.

Johns Hopkins, usually good, is not expected to offer much opposition this Saturday. The Bluejays have lost to Yale, 6-5, and Rutgers, 12-2; the latter, however, are much stronger than normal and figure to give the Tigers plenty of trouble next month.

Members of the cast include Taylor Woodward, Joseph Delafeld, Frederick Osborne, Guy Dean, George Akerlof, William Kales, William Hillier, John Cook, Robert Dorf, John Stein, Robert Rubino, John Davison and Lawrence Estey. Headmaster Henry B. Ross and Frank T. Gorman Jr. are directing.

The production will also include the initial concert appearance of the new school band under Syivan Friedman. Members of the glee club will participate under the direction of Frank J. Clark Jr. and Robert N. Smyth.

"Mikado" at Valley Road. The famous Gilbert and Sullivan operetta "The Mikado" will be presented on May 5 and 6 by the chorus of the Valley Road School. The performances will be Thursday afternoon, May 5, at 3:15, and Friday evening at 8.

Members of the cast, which has been rehearsing the rollicking operetta (with its many famous songs) of all-but-imaginary court life in Japan, who will sing leading roles include Nancy Dyer, Philip North, Roger Nicoll, Nancy Dinsmore, Bob Rugg and Roy Norton. Mrs. Virginia Switten, head of the music department, is directing the operetta.

The school orchestra will play before the show and during intermissions. Tickets are on sale at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children, with proceeds to go towards a new piano for the auditorium. The school has issued an appeal for Japanese or other oriental costumes to be borrowed for the show.

"Thirteen Clocks" at Miss Fines. The eighth grade of Miss Fines' School is preparing James Thurber's "The Thirteen Clocks" for performance on May 7 as a part of the school's May Day program. Mr. Thurber has granted his permission for the group to dramatize the magic tale, which includes the only Golux in the world.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Blackwell Smith. Members of the cast include Camilla Turnbull, Abigail Pollak, Alison Wheeler, Deborah Smith, Lucinda Phelps, Diana Conroy, Margaret Snow, Frances Jackson, Lucy James, Patricia Kenney, Judith Levin, Ruth Lynn Pessel, Alice Stengel, Wendy Fraker, Gail Andrews, Marion Dean, Anne Goheen, Catherine Harman, Nina Lapsley, Nancy McMorris, Brooke Stevens, Susan Stevenson, Martha Strunsky and Jennifer Dunning.

Mrs. Richard Morgan is supervising the staging of the production. Costumes are being made by the girls with the assistance of Miss Nanci Walker, Mrs. Burton Jackson, Mrs. Harrison Fraker, Mrs. Walker Stevenson and Mrs. Joseph Stevens. The play will be open to the public, with an admission charge of 50 cents.

Mayors Plan to Enter Contest.
Among the contestants in the second annual hole-in-one contest, scheduled for next weekend, will be the mayors of Princeton Borough and township, P. MacKay Sturges and John H. Wallace, Jr. The event will take place at the lower end of Springdale Road from 8 a.m. to dusk next Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1.

Mr. Sturges and Mr. Wallace have planned to tee off at 11 Saturday morning. Together with hundreds of others expected to partake in the two-day affair, they will pay $1 a shot. Proceeds will benefit Princeton Hospital, with the contest arranged as a preliminary to the annual fete set for Saturday, June 4, at Palmer Stadium.

Each actual hole-in-one will bring a cash prize of $150. In addition, the hall nearest the hole will win a $150 merchandise certificate donated by L. Bamberger & Co.

Prizes will be displayed for the coming week in the window of Walter B. Hoye, Inc., 94 Nassau Street. Raymond Weihaus has contributed the prize identification cards, while the sketch on posters advertising the tournament was drawn by Bertram Petersen.

Macgill Now Vice-President.
The Trenton Banking Company has announced the election of Richard G. Macgill as executive vice-president. His home is at 131 Westcott Road, where he lives with his wife and two sons, 22 and 14.

Mr. Macgill has been with the Trenton bank since 1949, coming from the Bankers Trust Company in New York as assistant vice-president. He was elected vice-president the following year. In Trenton, he is active as a member of civic clubs, belongs to the New Jersey Bankers Association and is a past president of the Trenton Chapter, American Institute of Banking. He has also been treasurer of the Delaware Valley United Fund.

Dignan Defense Head, Govern-

nor Meyner this week announced the appointment of Thomas S. Dignan of Springdale Road as Director of the New Jersey Civil Defense. He succeeds Leonard Dreyfuss, under whom he had been serving as deputy director.

Mr. Dignan first became associated with defense activities in New Jersey when he was chief of staff in 1940 and '41. During duty in the Army Air Force in World War II, he was attached to the 8th and 9th Air Forces and took part in the Normandy invasion on D-Day. He was discharged with the rank of captain.

Mr. Dignan rejoined the Department of Defense in 1950. He is a graduate of Princeton, Class of 1926.

Water Fluoridation Is Urged.
The Editor of Town Topics:

The recently reported success of the Salk vaccine marks a notable step forward in the prevention of disease. In this we all take pride. Nevertheless, we must not for that reason ignore other health measures—albeit less spectacular—that have proved successful in fighting other diseases.

Since 1944 careful studies of communities in New York, Michigan, and Ontario, Canada have shown that the addition of a trace of fluorine to the public water supply cuts children's tooth decay by about fifty percent. Today over 1,000 communities with over 20,000,000 population enjoy the benefits of water, including as Sar- ington, D. has been American and the U. ice, we ca process is. Surely F itself on be not to post dation inde efforts of 1

IT'S NEW TO US

Entomology. Lady bugs, beetles, butterflies and miscellaneous insects decorate the spring blouses they have at Clayton's, 17 Palmer Square West. Shapley has worked out a design with moths, butterflies and beetles on a white background. There is a brown-green collection for you to take home. Sleeveless, round collar, $3.95.

One-inch lady bugs pose in regular lines on a faintly cross-hatched background. Rene of Switzerland has captured these specimens and they are yours for $4.95. Rene also has some lovely solid color blouses, including a daffodil yellow one that is like spring. Background is also a light tan blouse with simulated leaf embroidery at the neck tab.

The summer gown collection offers a cotton blouse with narrow tape for shoulder straps and waist tie. Comes in white with red, yellow with gold, pale blue with royal and pink with rose.

In the kitchen at Clayton's, there's a pot-holder holder. A linen wall plaque that holds two potholders. The designs are blacked on in provincial style in shades of red, charcoal, yellow, and so on. Holder and two potholders cost $1.50.

Summer bags are sleek or shaggy, depending on your taste. The shaggy one is white straw with little straw loops all over it and small colored beads hidden here and there in the straw. A sleek one, for an ensemble of summer black and white, is the foot-long straw purse in black patent. It looks just like an old-fashioned coin purse, but its manner is modern.

Then there's a straw strap purse, a carryall in straw with a hinged pulley wooden top, and a series of bags in nubby acetate. Some of these are pouches, some are satchels, and they come in shades of bright rust or natural, two colors that blend well with the straw trim.

Jupiter presents for summer a white shirt trimmed in the tails of Jantzen swim suits. There are also "Knee-Hi's" — longish shorts, "Tartan Tommy's" — short shorts, and something tantalizing called Tite Pants that we saw on the label, but couldn't find on the Clayton racks. Probably in a locked case. There is a matching cap for all these.

Maquerade, Elise Goupil's cottons look like silk prints. We found a quartet of distinguished cotton dresses in small prints that look so much like silk that only a touch will tell you they are cotton. One, in the shop at 217 Nassau, has graceful little sleeves, and a covering jacket with three-quarter sleeves, and a black velvet collar.

Another, in a lemon, grey and black print, has a black velvet outline on its gentle V-neck. Scallop cap sleeves add a pleasant note to a navy and white print with wide U-neck, slash pockets at the hip and black velvet trim. The Shop's most dashing dress for summer is a simply cut cotton and nylon bandy, made with no sleeves and deep V-neck fore and aft. The skirt is pleated all the way around with permanent pleats so fine that they measure only a quarter inch from crest to fold.

The skirt has been so designed that when the pleats are in repose, a narrow diamond pattern appears. When the pleats are spread, like an accordion, the pattern enlarges and becomes a row of paisley squares set on, their points. Background is natural, the print predominantly blue, green or red, the price $49.95.

Swiss designers have a fabric made of handkerchief squares. Buy the dress and cut it up for handkerchiefs if you wish. It is fine Swiss voile in a delicately formal floral pattern with pale grey edging. Orange or raspberry — you have your choice.

For spring or fall there's a cotton in Black Watch with a fly front, and raglan sleeves that measure a length three-quarters
